

are reported to be approximately $1.7 million, most of which represent wage and salary costs for Federal personnel. Personnel costs were largely centered in the Department of the Treasury (particularly in the Office of Foreign Assets Control, the U.S. Customs Service, the Office of the Under Secretary for Enforcement, and the Office of the General Counsel); the Department of State (particularly the Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs, the Bureau of Near Eastern Affairs, the Bureau of Intelligence and Research, and the Office of the Legal Adviser); and the Department of Commerce (the Bureau of Export Administration and the General Counsel's Office).

8. The situation reviewed above continues to present an extraordinary and unusual threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States. The declaration of the national emergency with respect to Iran contained in Executive Order 12957 and the comprehensive economic sanctions imposed by Executive Order 12959 underscore the Government's opposition to the actions and policies of the Government of Iran, particularly its support of international terrorism and its efforts to acquire weapons of mass destruction and the means to deliver them. The Iranian Transactions Regulations issued pursuant to Executive Orders 12957, 12959, and 13059 continues to advance important objectives in promoting the nonproliferation and anti-terrorism policies of the United States. I shall exercise the powers at my disposal to deal with these problems and will report periodically to the Congress on significant developments.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

THE WHITE HOUSE, September 16, 1998.

□ 2100

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SNOWBARGER). Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 7, 1997, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Washington (Mr. METCALF) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. METCALF addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. LANTOS addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

NO SECOND CHANCES FOR MURDERERS, RAPISTS, OR CHILD MOLESTERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. FOX) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FOX of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise to address the House to speak about very important legislation I am working on with Congressman MATT SALMON. This legislation is the No Second Chances for Murderers, Rapists, or Child Molesters Act.

Mr. Speaker, each year more than 14,000 murders, rapes and sexual assaults on children are committed each year by individuals who have been released in the neighborhoods after serving a prison sentence for rape, murder, or child molestation.

Think about it. Every one of these crimes is preventable.

These perpetrators were behind bars, convicted of heinous crimes; yet, Mr. Speaker, were released to prey on the population again. This is unconscionable, indefensible, and must stop. That is why I am working with my colleagues. Mr. SALMON has introduced the legislation. We are working together with the Law Enforcement Caucus to make sure this legislation is adopted.

Public safety demands that we keep these people behind bars. Second chances are fine for petty crimes, however we do not believe that individuals who have murdered, raped, or molested a child should have that opportunity to repeat their criminal behavior.

Just consider just a couple of offenses which are so tragic.

In 1997, Arthur J. Bomar, Jr., was charged in Pennsylvania, Mr. Speaker, with a rape and murder of a George Mason University star athlete, Amy Willard. Bomar had been paroled in 1990 from a Nevada prison, following an 11-year stint in prison for murder. Even in prison he had a record of violence. Bomar is also being investigated for involvement in at least two other homicides that follow his release. Amy's mother, Gail Willard, has endorsed the legislation.

The victims go on and on.

We have Mary Vincent in California, and we have countless other witnesses who came before the Committee on the Judiciary today about how important this bill is.

Released murderers, rapists, and child molesters are more likely to recommit the same offense than the general prison population. Released murderers are almost five times more likely than other ex-convicts to be re-arrested for murder. Released rapists are 10½ times more likely than nonrapist offenders to have a subsequent arrest for rape. Astonishingly, a recent Department of Justice study revealed that 134,300 convicted child molesters and other sex offenders are currently living in our neighborhoods across America.

We want to change this, to encourage States to keep sex offenders and murderers in prison where they belong. Our legislation, the No Second Chances for Murderers, Rapists, or Child Molesters Act is what we are advancing. This bipartisan legislation, Mr. Speaker, would enact a simple process. If a State releases a murderer, a rapist, or a child molester and that criminal goes on to commit one of these crimes in another State, the State that released the criminal will compensate the second State and the victim in the later crime.

This is an idea whose time has arrived, Mr. Speaker. I hope that more and more of our representatives will join us in this quest to have this legislation adopted. It has been endorsed by every major law enforcement organization in the United States.

Congressman SALMON is to be congratulated for bringing this idea forward. Many of us have cosponsored this bill because we believe it is going to be a step in the right direction. This Federal bill, along with a similar State bill, will make sure that those people who commit such violent crimes will not do them a second time.

WE MUST SAVE SOCIAL SECURITY FIRST

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. BERRY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the most successful government program ever created: the Social Security system.

Over 500,000 retired Arkansans and 160 million retired Americans depend on their Social Security system monthly check as a necessary source to supplement their retirement income. Many retired seniors in my district and across the country rely on the Social Security system as their only source of income.

Right now, millions of working Americans, including our children and grandchildren, are paying into the Social Security system and are counting on it for when they retire. Although no one in the next few years has to worry about whether they will receive their monthly check, the Social Security system will face undeniable problems in the future which need to be addressed now.

These problems are due to demographics which include the baby boom generation, declining birth rates, and increasing life expectancies. The number of people 65 and older is predicted to rise by 75 percent by the year 2025. The number of workers whose payroll taxes finance the Social Security system benefits of retirees is projected to grow by only 15 percent. This year the Social Security system will collect $100 billion more in payroll taxes and interest than it pays out to the Social Security beneficiaries.

By the year 2010, when 76 million baby boomers begin to retire, the Social Security systems cash flow surplus will begin to decline. Because Social Security is financed by payroll and self-employment taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis, meaning that today's
